Truck Drivers

transport our food, fuel, and fiber

How do truck drivers help farmers and you?

Deb Hundley is a truck driver. She uses time management skills to help plan the transport of grain. She moves grain from the farm to the processor. The processor makes new products from the grain, like animal feed! Deb loves driving semi-truck! It gets her out of the office to see all parts of Iowa.

Truck drivers pull trailers. The trailer changes based on what is being transported.
